Dr. Standing is a British professor of Development Studies at the University of London, and co-founder of the Basic Income Earth Network. He has written widely in the areas of labour economics, labour market policy, unemployment, labour market flexibility, structural adjustment policies and social protection. His recent work has concerned the emerging precariat class and the need to move towards unconditional basic income and deliberative democracy. He's also the author of: The Precariat: The New Dangerous Class and A Precariat Charter: from denizens to citizens.
